

APPRECIATION FROM THE COMMUNITY DENTAL OUTREACH PROGRAM

We are thrilled to share some exciting news regarding the University of Adelaide Dental School's Community Outreach Dental Program (CODP) and the invaluable support it has received from the International College of Dentists (ICD) Section VIII. This support has been instrumental in allowing CODP to continue its mission of promoting oral health and making a significant impact on the community.

CODP has long been dedicated to enhancing oral health in underserved communities by providing essential dental care and education. This mission has been made possible through the generous contributions of organizations like ICD Section VIII.

The procurement of crucial resources, such as anaesthetics and restorative materials, is essential for delivering quality dental care to those in need. Thanks to the support from ICD Section VIII, CODP has been able to maintain a steady supply of these critical materials for 2024, ensuring that every patient receives the best possible care.

Moreover, ICD Section VIII's support has provided opportunities for final-year dental students to gain valuable hands-on experience while serving their communities. These students are the future of dentistry, and their involvement in CODP's initiatives not only benefits the program but also contributes to their professional growth.

The partnership between CODP and ICD Section VIII exemplifies the collective commitment to improving oral health worldwide. Together, we are making a difference in the lives of individuals who may not have access to adequate dental care otherwise.

The support from ICD Section VIII enables us to continue our vital mission by ensuring the availability of essential resources, offering valuable opportunities to aspiring dental professionals, and ultimately, improving oral health in communities that need it the most.

We extend our heartfelt gratitude to ICD Section VIII for their unwavering support, and we look forward to continuing our collaborative efforts in the future.
